BALD HEADED CLUB.

definitely and he saw no good reason for breaking the tie between the Cooper and Wooldridge families. As a substitute, he moved that the whole matter be laid on the table.

Col. J. C. Wooldridge attempted to secure recognition, but President Cooper was taken with a sudden attack of blindness and unfortunately failed to see him. Before he could change his position, Col. Bamberger got up and said he didn't see how Mr. Wooldridge's head could be laid on the table. He understood his head was still fastened to his body and it would take a table six feet long to lay him on. The only table they had was the small affair the water bucket was on and he saw no use in buying a table to put anybody on. If he had to be laid on anything, lay him on the floor.

At this stage of the game Col. Bob Wooldridge walked over to Col. Bamberger and asked him if he had never heard that John D. Rockefeller had made $300,000,000 attending to his own business?

Yes, said the witty Colonel, but his Chicago son-in-law made $50,000,000 in a five minutes, talk he made before a preacher the other night. Seeing that there was danger of personalities being indulged in, Col. Chess Pyle, who is always afraid somebody will be killed, prevailed on Col. J. O. Cooper to withdraw his motion to take and let the matter be postponed till the next meeting. A motion to this effect was passed and Mr. Wooldridge was asked to call again and Dr. McCormack was brought in and initiated into the mysteries of the order, and instructed in the secret work, grip, password, etc. He said it was not necessary to give him the grip as he had had it twice and would never forget it. President Cooper explained that this was another kind. Just before the club adjourned, Col. Lem McKee, who was appointed to sing a solo, arose and asked to be given further time. He said his friend, Mrs. Victoria Guelph, of London, died last week; President McKinley had the grip, Pope Leo was sick and he was not feeling very well himself. Distinguished people everywhere seemed to be having trouble with their health and he was admonished to be very careful and not run any risk by over-exerting himself.

On motion of Col. Pyle he was given a year's time to render the song.

Col. S. H. Claggett volunteered to sing for Col. McKee, but President Cooper said it was getting early and the club had better adjourn.

Thereupon, in order to try his hand as Dictator, he declared the club adjourned, without the formality of a motion.

Pity and Beauty

The most beautiful thing in the world is the baby, all dimples and joy. The most pitiful thing is that same baby, thin and in pain. And the mother does not know that a little fat makes all the difference.

Dimples and joy have gone, and left hollows and fear; the fat, that was comfort and color and curve—all but pity and love—is gone.

The little one gets no fat from her food. There is something wrong; it is either her food or food-mill. She has had no fat for weeks; is living on what she had stored in that plump little body of hers; and that is gone. She is starving for fat; it is death, be quick!

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the fat she can take; it will save her.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

The Making of Good Coffee

Begins in the growing. Anywhere between the plantation and the coffee pot the flavor may be changed, the quality spoiled by carelessness, inexperience, or unscrupulous methods. From the time Arbuckles' Coffee leaves the hands of the grower until it reaches the user in a sealed packet, it is handled with the same watchful care, the same thought for cleanliness, that you would give any article of food that goes on your table. That's the reason it costs the grocer a cent a pound more than its cheap imitations. The extra cent you pay for buys much more than a cent's worth of quality and strength. A pound of Arbuckles' Coffee will give you more cupfuls of better coffee than you would get from other package coffees.

Be sure you get Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. Other package coffees are but imitations of Arbuckles'.

In each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee there is a list of articles. With each package in which the list is found the purchaser has bought a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the list, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut out and returned to our Notion Dept. You should see this list. Address all communications to

RIFLE BALL

Fired Into Store and Ladies Have Narrow Escape.

A bullet was fired into the rear of Mme. Fleurette Levy's millinery store Friday and the leaden missile passed within a few inches of Mrs. Levy and Miss Ophelia Payne, who were sitting near the rear door. The ball passed through both the outer doors and the screen and fell on the floor several feet away. There was no report of fire arms heard by the ladies and the first intimation they had of danger was when the crash caused by the entrance of the ball in the door was heard. The matter was at once reported to the police who made a thorough investigation of the premises in the rear of the building, but they could find no clue that would lead to the solution of the mystery. The supposition now is that some one outside of the city limits fired a rifle in the direction of Main street and the ball lodged in the store. The ladies were considerably shocked by the occurrence as both had a narrow escape.

Public Sale.

On Tuesday, Feb. 12, 1901, at Rock Hollow, the late residence of John F.
